Disposable Continence Care Products

Individuals, Inspiration and Innovation: Our Framework for Thought and Action

Individuals

For us, everything begins with an individual. A person. A husband, a parent, a sister. A fellow human being with a condition that none of us would want. Incontinence. We make a point of remembering that somewhere, an individual that we may never get to meet is being cared for with our help.

Inspirations

Our inspiration—what makes us proud—is finding better ways to serve people. Unique needs give us new challenges and inspire our drive for better understanding and better ideas. Many of our responses are on the pages of this catalog. It's why our product line is so broad. Because we're convinced there's a better way to improve lives and address every continence care need—whether it helps the wearer, caregiver or institution.

Innovations

Innovations come in many forms. In products, such as the Restore brief with a layer of Remedy® Skin Repair Cream in the lining. In clinical programs that address wound prevention and care or how to meet regulatory mandates. And in business programs to address the financial needs of healthcare providers – from consignment arrangements to guaranteed savings programs. Medline also invests in green innovations, such as using recycled materials and reducing fossil fuel use by packaging product so almost twice as much fits on a single truck.

Cloth-like outer fabric: better for skin health

RESTORE® Premium Briefs

Skin continence care in one innovative product

The RESTORE® brief addresses two major incontinence issues: the need to keep skin extra dry and the need to protect skin integrity. It uses a unique dual core that wicks away moisture and provides overnight protection. Superabsorbent polymers (SAP) trap liquids deep inside the core and a high-tech acquisition layer in the lining helps pull fluid away from the body to help protect the skin.

To help protect skin integrity, a layer of Remedy Skin Repair Cream has been laid into the brief. A proprietary blend of antioxidants, amino acids, vitamins and dimethicone helps nourish and soothe fragile skin.

Medline Remedy® Advanced Skin Care

The difference between a remedy and a functional product line...

Remedy goes beyond cleansing, moisturizing and protecting the skin. Remedy adds necessary nutrients, antioxidants and essential fatty acids to help deliver nourishment to the skin.

Instead of using harsh surfactant-based cleaners, Remedy cleansers are derived from coconuts and phospholipids, helping retain the natural oils and skin's moisture.

Remedy moisturizes only with natural oils that provide essential fatty acids and help build the "mortar" in between the dead cells and reduce the excessive transepidermal water loss (e-TEWL).

In addition, Remedy skin protectants utilize silicones and zinc oxide to protect the skin from moisture, incontinence, perspiration or wound exudate.

Remedy with Olivamine has been clinically proven to help relieve different skin symptoms related to incontinence dermatitis, such as denuded skin, redness and irritation.

Remedy with Phytoplex™, a new line extension, has been designed without parabens, aloe, petroleum-derivatives, phthalates, sulfates, for patients with the most sensitive skin in mind.

Apply Remedy with our dry wipes, see page 22

Medline Clinical Programs: Expert Support for Healthcare Challenges

Medline clinical programs support our customers with comprehensive approaches to complex issues in health-care. Two programs closely related to continence care are the Compass: Fit Right program for F-tag 315 and QIS compliance, and the Pressure Ulcer Prevention Program (PUPP) that explores the causes, prevention, treatment and documentation of these devastating wounds. Other programs address CAUTI, hand hygiene, advanced wound care and diabetes care.

Program Focus Compass: Fit Right Program

The Compass: Fit Right Program is a practical, hands-on resource to help you improve care outcomes and reduce regulatory risk. The current release helps long term care providers demystify the continence care portion of the new QIS survey process, helping them be survey-ready.

The program includes staff training on many aspects of continence care, including assessing voiding patterns, incontinence types, treatment options, perineal care and UTI prevention. Courses are on DVDs and come with program manuals as well as plans, algorithms and protocols you can tailor to your own requirements.

Patient and family education tools help keep them engaged and involved with their or their loved one's care plan. Practical information and tools for determining appropriate size and type of continence products are included, as well as financial tools.

The Compass: Fit Right Program is another way Medline goes beyond just supplying healthcare products. We're striving to become your healthcare partner.

Program Focus

PUPP: The Medline Pressure Ulcer Prevention Program

The Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services have received reports of over a quarter million preventable pressure ulcers.¹ Other published research from the CDC reports found that more than one in ten nursing home residents was diagnosed with a pressure ulcer.²

Medline helps you take on this challenge with a comprehensive program combining education and training, best-in-class products and program management. PUPP has been implemented in over 300 healthcare facilities and now is available in three separate versions for acute care, long-term care and the homecare/hospice market.

The PUPP program features training for RNs, LPNs, administrators and patients and their families. Each course addresses the specific needs of each learner. The overall goal is learning to prevent pressure ulcers before they occur.

Some of the most successful products used in PUPP implementations are featured in this catalog, including the Restore® and Comfort-Aire™ briefs, the Ultrasorbs® dry pad and the Remedy® line of skin care products. Your Medline rep will help you determine the right product mix for your facility.

Our Products Are Disposable. Our Planet Is Not.

Care for the environment is a natural extension of our philosophy of care: care for the individual, care for the caregiver and care for the healthcare provider. As we work to improve the lives of our parents and grandparents today, we recognize the responsibility to our children and grandchildren tomorrow.

Consider these actions that we're taking today to reduce our impact on the environment —

- We carefully consider the materials we use and are working to use more renewable resources and fewer petroleum-based components without compromising comfort, fit and efficacy.
- We're capturing and reusing material that used to go to a landfill and implementing manufacturing processes to eliminate waste before it happens.
- Plastic packaging, corrugated boxing and fuel use have all been significantly reduced, resulting in a smaller carbon footprint.

Beyond these Personal Care-specific actions, Medline is making significant investments in becoming more a more eco-friendly corporate citizen.
