

Recliners

With three comfortable positions, retractable lock bar, self-adjusting suspension and a convenient tray, this recliner from McKesson includes a world of features. It can be positioned upright, with the leg rest/footrest elevated, or in a deep recline, and a retractable lock bar secures the chair in your desired position. The recliner includes a large, convenient tray that locks in five positions and can be stowed away on the side of the chair. The comfortable "built-in" headrest and wide padded arm rests were constructed at an angle to provide support, even in a reclined position. Choose a McKesson recliner to complete a patient room.
